Conference Scholarship Application

The NC Government Finance Officers Association holds three conferences each year to promote professional development, obtain continuing education credit, communicate current issues in government finance, and offer opportunities to network with peers. We view these conferences as critically important to develop and maintain expertise in government finance and satisfy our responsibilities as finance professionals.

Small units of government often do not have the resources to send their finance professionals to these conferences. Accordingly, the Executive Committee offers a limited number of scholarships to NCGFOA members who would like to attend a NCGFOA conference for the first-time. The scholarship covers the conference registration fee and if needed, a hotel room.

Scholarships are available for first-time attendees from small units of government:

- A county with a 25,000 or less population,
- A city or town with 10,000 or less population or
- A special district or public authority serving 10,000 customers or less.
